Reflections

When we reflect, we find an inner peace that is unchanged by the conflicts surrounding us. Reflections of times past all serve to bring us closer to the realities of the times ahead. We hope that our experience at the College By The Sea will benefit now and forever. As we reflect, we recall the shared good times and laughter that kept us going through the adversity and the tears along the way. We recall those experiences that, for us, were new, anticipated, dreaded, and sometimes scary. This academic year has been filled with Golden Memories, and this year's Tiger is published to recapture some of those joyous moments. Hopefully, they will live on after we have sailed through the water of S.S.C., the College By The Sea.

Farewell

Dear Students:
Your request that I pen a farewell letter for publication in the 1989-90 edition of the Tiger honors me. I appreciate this special opportunity to greet you and to express parting sentiments, albeit belatedly.

As you no doubt know, it was in mid-July that the Board of Regents appointed Dr. Gardner President of the College, to become effective September 1, 1989. Thus, when I left on the eighth of September, few of you were around for me to bid goodbye.

I'd like all of you to know that over the nineteen months that I was acting President among the things that impressed me most about SSC were the affability of the students, their responsiveness to the administration, their loyalty to the College, and their promise as future leaders.

Living on campus, getting to know most of you, working with you and for you, listening to your concerns and problems and helping to resolve them, participating in your activities, witnessing your performances, noting your accomplishments, and meeting your parents and relatives were enjoyable and fulfilling experiences. Indeed, I count it a priviledge to have served you and SSC.

You are fortunate to be students at Savannah State College, for it offers students extraordinary educational advantages and bequeaths to them a uniquely rich legacy. I charge you to make the most of this blessing and to continue working together and with the administration, faculty, and staff in efforts to promote your alma mater. Please remember that all of you have my best wishes for success in achieving your educational and career goals and for a bright future.

Sincerely yours,

Wiley S. Bolden

This award ceremony is the College's highest tribute to its faculty in recognition of their outstanding service to the college. Founder's Day

Upon What Things Do We Reflect?

The Founder's Day Observance is an annual program which brings the entire Savannah State College family, its faculty, staff, students and alumni together to commemorate the legacy of its founding. This year's convocation paid special tribute to the ministerial community, and all local clergy participated in the Convocation and marched in the processional. Reverend Doctor Cameron Alexander, president of the Georgia Baptist Convention, delivered the keynote address.

When we reflect upon experiences at our Alma Mater, we remember working with others in order to achieve success. From this experience, we learn our strengths and weaknesses. But first and foremost, we learn to preserve.

Living A Dream And Doing

Homecoming, November 4-11, 1989, was a time for competitions — whether under the guise of "recreational activites," decorating contests, treasure hunts, step shows, or that all-important 29-17 triumph over Albany State College. It was a time for the coronation, when the lovely Miss S.S.C., Janell Westley, announced to her captivated court and kingdom, "Let the festivites officially begin!" Moreover, Homecoming 1989 was a time for companions. There were the usual one million and one parties — skating, toga, Camilla, dawn, to name a few — but there were also reunions among family members separated by distance and former classmates separated by lifestyles. There was a pervasive spirit of togetherness, a spirit that should be present regardless of Homecoming. Homecoming 1989 made one anxiously anticipate Savannah State College's Centennial Homecoming all the more.

Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority was founded on the campus of Howard University on January 16, 1908. The organization was one of the initial Greek Letter Sororities among Negro women in America. The founders became aware of the increasing complexity of women's problems, and formed the organization with the purpose of cultivating and encouraging high scholastic and ethical standards, improving the social status of the race, promoting unity and friendship among college women and keeping alive among the Alumnae an interest in college life and progressive movements emanating there from. Alpha Kappa Alpha is presently an international as well as a national organization with members of all races. Its present membership is that of 80,000 or more women. The aim of Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority is "service to all mankind."

Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity, Incorporated, was founded by seven young men on the predominantly white campus of Cornel University on December 4, 1906. Being the first Greek-Letter organization for African Americans, Alpha Phi Alpha set the precedence for those to come. After 83 years in existence, the fraternity has nurtured some of the greatest leaders in all walks of life. Men like Martin Luther King, Jr., Thurgood Marshall, Nat King Cole, Jesse Owens, and W.E.B. DuBois are only a few of the brothers among the 150,000 that have shaped history. Delta Eta Chapter, founded on April 24, 1949, has made a strong commitment to making a positive contribution to the community by having tutorial workshops, participating in the Boy Scouts of America, heading a youth group for young men, and visiting and carrying for elderly in the community. Always striving to live up to its motto, "First of all, Servant of all, Eve shall transcend all," Alpha Phi Alpha will continue to endure the test of time.

Delta Sigma Theta

At the inception of Delta Sigma Theta in 1913 at Howard University, the founders envisioned an organization of college women pledged to serious endeavors and community service. These youthful students demonstrated a vital concern for social welfare, academic excellence, and cultural enrichment, and de-emphasized the social side of sorority life. Their ideals of scholarship and service withstood the test of time, and today Delta Sigma Theta is a public-service sorority, dedicated to a program of sharing membership skills and organization services in the public interest. In 1930, Delta Sigma Theta was incorporated as a national organization. The record of incorporation is filed in the congressional library in the office of the Recorders Deed in Washington, D.C. Today Delta Sigma Theta is the largest national women's organization in the world with 318 chapters in 44 states, including the Republic of Haiti and Liberia. On January 12, 1963, at its 50th Anniversary Celebration in Washington D.C., President John F. Kennedy congratulated the organization on its "service to the country."

Phi Beta Sigma

On Saturday Oct. 8, 1913, A. Langston Taylor presented to Leonard F. Morse the proposition of establishing a new fraternity at Howard University. Charles I. Brown, another student at the university, was invited to help in the movement. These three men wanted to plan well for this new organization in order to insure its long life. the permanent organization was formed on Jan. 9, 1914. This date is considered the "Founders Day" of Phi Beta Sigma Fraternity. The original three founders, Taylor, Morse, and Brown, chose nine of their college classmates at Howard University as the charter members of the fraternity. These twelve men chose the name Phi Beta Sigma for the new organization. The fraternity has produced such great members as A. Philip Randolph, James Weldon, George Washington Carver, Ervin "Magic" Johnson, and Jerry Rice. The Gamma Zeta Chapter on this campus was established in 1940. The fraternity stands for excellence in scholarship, which is addressed through three national programs: education, social action, and bigger and better business. The fraternity's motto is "Culture for service and service for humanity." Phi Beta Sigma is "One Flight Above." This year, the fraternity is celebrating its 75th Diamond Jubilee Anniversary.

GRADUATE ASSOCIATION OF PUBLIC ADMINISTRATION

The Graduate Association of Public Administration was organized Fall, 1986 under the leadership of Dr. Willie E. Johnson. Its membership is comprised of students currently enrolled in the Master of Public Administration Program at SSC. The purpose of G.A.P.A. is to serve as a resource for SSC and the Savannah community, offering researched information and managerial, as well as operational skills. Two objectives of the Association are to provide SSC and the community leadership workshops and lectures on problem solving and to serve as a base at which all local MPA members and affiliates could assemble to exchange ideas and plan events.

CIVIC-MINDED CITIZENS, THEY CALL THEMSELVES. THESE ARE THE FEW CITIZENS AT STATE WHO FIND TIME TO SQUEEZE INTO THEIR BUSY SCHEDULES A FEW EXTRA-CURRICULAR ACTIVITIES. THEY ARE LEADERS, NOT FOLLOWERS; THEY ARE THE SEARCHERS WHO EX-CAVATE THE SOIL FROM THE EARTH. ABORTIVE ARE MANY OF THEIR ATTEMPTS, YET THEY CONTINUE TO DIG, AND INSTEAD OF FINDING NATURAL RESOURCES, THEY DISCOVER NEW TALENT.

MANY LATE EVENINGS, WE SEE THEM RETURNING BONE-TIRED, FROM MEETINGS. AND WHEN WE ARE TUCKED AWAY FOR BED, THEY ARE JUST BEGINNING TO PEER THROUGH THE GLOOM AT FAMILIAR FURNISHING: DESKS, CHAIRS, AND, OF COURSE, BOOKS. THEY SIT DOWN TO COLD PIZZA AND BEGIN TO TRANSLATE NOTES TAKEN IN CLASS EARLIER IN THE DAY.

SOON IT IS WELL PAST MIDNIGHT. BUT THEY ARE STILL AT WORK, SELFISHLY SEARCHING FOR ANSWERS TO PROBLEMS WHICH THEIR COLLEAGUES OVERLOOKED. THEIR QUEST FOR KNOWLEDGE IS FURTHER INVIGORATED BY THEIR PRE-DAWN DREAMS: IN CLASS, THEY WILL EXHIBIT THE KIND OF INTELLECTUAL ENTHUSIASM WHICH THE PROFESSORS ADMIRE.

More Than Just A Job

Army ROTC

Army ROTC has been at Savannah State College for nine years. During this period, the department has been noted for producing competent, motivated, and bonifide second Lieutenants for the U.S. Army, U.S. Army Reserve, and National Guard. The current enrollment is steadily growing. At this time, the department is one of the largest organizations on Savannah State College campus. Professionalism is a trademark of the department. Army ROTC is a good opportunity to invest in a secure future. Often students who graduate from undergraduate school have problems finding a job. When a student in ROTC has been commissioned, that student begins work immediately after graduation.

For those who make it through, the Army ROTC program permits personal as well as professional development. The program also allows for the development of leadership and management skills which are valuable assets in the work force. It is one of few organizations that enable students to gain such a rigorous and thorough training while still in school.

This AICHE Affiliate program was inaugurated last school term as a result of student progress and support under the supervision of Mr. Fred Moser. This "Petition Council" will be successfully chartered with the continued support of the members in January 1991. The primary function of the AICHE is to encourage students majoring in Chemical Engineering to become cognizant of recent developments in their area of academia. AICHE members are taught professionalism and safety techniques. Moreover, this organization is designed to improve communication within the Chemical Sciences. Active participation in programs enable members to attain summer fellowships at major corporations throughout the world. The local chapter soared beyond its horizon by inducting nine new members into the program this past school term. However, the program faces discontinuation if its membership does not increase during the Centennial school term (90-91). As a result, members are presently recruiting incoming as well as undecided students to major in the Chemical Engineering Technology Program.

Members find the wide variety of chapter activities both professionally and personally enriching. This chapter also enables members to make contacts that will prove invaluable throughout their career. Participation in chapter activities can help members develop important skills in leadership, organization, and communication.

The Baptist Student Union was organized as a response to the Lord's command to make the gospel known to all men. BSU, as a group of born-again, spirit-filled believers, wants to let students know that Jesus Christ wants to be an integral part of their lives. He wants to bless them and to use them in a way that will edify them as well as bring glory to His name. The BSU members are involved in weekly Bible studies, state conferences, as well as the Student Believers Convention and Soul Fest revivals which are held during Religious Emphasis Week. 1990 marks the beginning for greater things for the BSU as its Higher Life Singers raise their voice for Jesus and its new program, Choices and Challenges, airs on the campus radio station.

The ISA sponsors many social and cultural programs throughout the year. Some events include the International Spring Festival, which consists of the International Fashion Show of National Dress, the monthly International

The Residence Assistants is a group of Upperclassmen that conduct the format of dormitory life. Acronymly called "RA's," they serve a vital role in the lives of the student body. These individuals are considered the "makers or breakers" of the resident life. Their main goal includes assisting the dorm directors with students in the dormitory. They assist by making sure that each student has the proper equipment supplied in his or her living quarters. They also assist in a vast number of dormitory life activities held on campus, and make sure that those activities are conducted in an orderly manner. Their primary purpose is to serve as an example and guide the underclassmen in a positive direction.

No! No! No! We Are On Scholarship.

Registration was a new experience for many students, especially for all incoming freshmen. After standing in extremely long registration lines for classes, one would think that paying for the classes would be easy. Students encountered many disappointing phrases such as "You need to go to financial aid," "Your GSL isn't in," and "You have a library fine," but through it all, they finally registered and walked away with a smile.

Registration Blues

Registration is an ordeal ... but a necessary one to become an official part of the college ... it means standing in a hot stuffy line in the administration building ... disappointments ... students juggling schedules ... but it is over soon and only comes three times a year.

Welcome To The World

of Savannah State College

The Freshman Class was entertained by the Peer Counselors during Orientation. Daren Cohen displays his fatigue.

After a busy week of Freshman Orientation, many students took a day off to attend Vesper Service at College Park Baptist Church to conclude the week.

Fostering New Ideas With New Minds For A Brighter Future

Freshman Orientation Week is held during the second week in September to orientate and advise new and energetic students on regulations and policies of the Savannah State Family. Freshman Orientation is a fun-filled week to help shed away those homesick blues. Therefore, a diligent and lively group of Upperclassmen (Peer Counselors) is used to handle questions and problems and to offer assistance in locating campus buildings. Although SSC is growing in its challenges and resources, it is up to students to make a definite balance between leisure and learning.

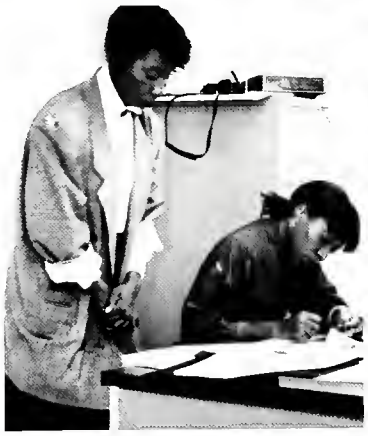
What Makes A Tiger Roar?

The effort and hardwork put forth by committed staff workers help to produce a prominent Savannah State College Tiger Yearbook. Many hours are spent perfecting and creating a yearbook that the students can look through and reflect over the events during the past year. Therefore the staff workers and advisors put in many long hours of their spare time to make sure that a quality yearbook is produced.



Tina, what are you talking about? Those pages have already been completed. We've already sent those pages off.

Go Tigers, Go Tigers! Get Busy, Get Busy!

Mrs. Green and Mrs. Morgan put some finishing touches on the Tiger yearbook.

People at Savannah State College have been called "pretty people" and "bamas," "party animals" and "bookworms," and "left-winged extremists" and "right-winged reactionaries." With students matriculating from all over the nation and the world, the diversities among the students are apparent.

While looking through some preceding annuals, some students reflect over former years at SSC.

What's Going On At SSC!

Savannah State College has a vast number of students who are eager to get involved in positive on-campus activities. The School of Excellence has been able to keep the students interested in many activities as well as in their studies for almost 100 years. The student body plays an important role in the make-up of the School of Excellence. WITHOUT US CAN'T BE US! This is a phrase that many students often quote to one another. Savannah State College takes pride in its unity.

What's up Doc? Many students at SSC reported seeing a big, ferocious, carnivorous creature swimming in the marsh. When further investigation was done by Mr. Daren Danzy, he found the creature to be a little friendly rabbit which was just paying SSC a visit.

Women's Tennis

Our women's tennis team represented SSC and placed second at a conference match in Albany, Georgia. Maryann Amina is the team's number two singles player as well as the Flight Two Champion. The defending Flight One, Rosaline Duke, paired with Amina for the doubles competition. Meanwhile, Trina Harris and Tasha Whitfield combined strategies for a second place win in the doubles competition.

"We're looking forward to excelling in future games as well as winning individual trophies, but the NCAA restriction will not get in the way of our team championship," Coach Daryl McNeill states enthusiastically. With natural talent and individual training, the tennis team is composed of well-rounded, exceptional players.

The Football Team of 1989 was a special group of young men at Savannah State College. The class of 1986 wa the beginning of good things to come for the "TIGERS". Just to name a few members of the 1986 Tigers were Mike Wallace, Shannon Sharpe, Westly McGriff and many others to come into the first recruiting class for Coach Davis. Along with the 1986 class came some talented Junior College players. The likes of Richard Basil as Quarterback, Allan Williams, Paul Heard and Randall Pitts, kicker, who had just finished a hitch in the army. The last two years, the Tiger possesed a 16-3 record (88-89) and set several school records on the way. These seniors will be long remembered by the Tiger Fans as men of character who worked hard on the road to success.

Uncrowned Champions

Following the success of last year's team, the SSC Tigers came into the season with high expectations. However, because the track and tennis teams were not in compliance with NCAA regulations, all sports programs at SSC were placed on restriction. Therefore, no SSC teams could claim a conference title or compete for the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Conference championship. This decision was a serious blow to the team's morale. The players knew in their hearts that they were the best in the conference and perhaps in the Division.

Despite all the adversity, the season began with a 56-0 victory over Miles College. Tony Simmons led the way by rushing for 137 yards. The Tigers then traveled to Elon College and returned home with another victory of 34-10. Richard Basil threw for 428 yards and made four touchdowns, while Mike Wallace had 14 tackles to lead the defense. The next game was with Virginia Union University. It was cancelled because of Hurricane Hugo. However, Morris Brown College was the next victim of Hurricane Tiger, as SSC won with a score of 57-13, giving the Tigers a 3-0 record. The SSC Tigers came face-to-face with Georgia Southern College for a mythical "Coastal Empire Championship". Shannon Sharpe burned the Eagle defense for 202 yards, but the effort was not enough as the Tigers lost fo GSC 35-15. SSC lost the game but won the respect of Georgia Southern. The loss would be the only blemish on the season. During the next three weeks, the Tigers' play was inconsistent and sluggish, although SSC was victorious in all three games.

Cheerleaders

Do It Do It

Now Freeze

The Savannah State Cheerleaders is a group of valorous young women that keep the spirit of football and basketball games as exciting in the stands as it is on the playing fields. These women defy death as they perform breath-taking human pyramids and other feats of acrobatics much to their own pleasure as to our entertainment. The fact that the college does not have a scholarship program for its cheerleaders, says much about the dedication of these young ladies. They do what they do out of pure love and enjoyment. Each time they tumble and sumersault out onto the field or court, they give us a feeling of jubilation. Even when the odds are down, their spirits are up. Even when we do not feel like cheering for the team, we appreciate what they are doing.

Tryouts are held every spring, after which follows the organizing of the squad's activities for the approaching season. Applicants are selected on the basis of physical ability and the ability to evoke the spirit of Savannah State College

To all my friends:
May your future be bright and beautiful. Just keep God first in everything you do. And He will send down a blessing especially for you that will make all your hopes and dreams have a way of coming true. And in the end, you know I'll be there for you. (smile)

Melvin

It's a Family Affair

Robinson

Melvin

I'm thankful for every moment that I rise. I'm thankful whether God sends rain or blue skies. I'm thankful because I can clearly see his love for you and me.

I Love You Mom,

To My Colleagues:
Looking back to the years when I was very young, I used to dream of becoming a star. Even though I was anxious, I was patient because I knew in time I would go far. There were many obstacles that were in my way, and I could have made many bad choices. But, with love and attention from my family, success is here to stay.

Words alone can not describe the memories that will live with the Class of 1990. Relationships have been formed and broken among students, teachers and most of all friends.

At times, when it could have been easier to go our separate ways, we didn't. SSC remained unified during the good and bad times. When the time comes to reminisce about the years in college, we will flip through the pages and fondly recall the time the college cordially invited us to . . . BE A TIGER!

Love Always,

Melvin Robinson
